NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

The Red Men will meet in Danville next year, May 8 and 9.

Miss Ruthy Mason has been appointed postmaster at Ivy, Bell county.

Judge T. Z. Morrow has been invited to deliver the decoration day address at Nashville.

Ira Berry was run over by a K. C. train at Red House and killed. He married a Miss Shearer, who survives.

Dr. H. G. Colson, a nephew of Col. D. G. Colson, died at Soura, Texas, where he was practicing medicine. He married Miss Nannie Hogg, of Madison.

Offutt's planing mill at Lebanon burned, together with all the machinery, patterns and a lot of dressed lumber. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $2,000.

Mr. W. G. McRoberts, an old Danville lad, is now holding a pleasant position with Hooker & Co., extensive vehicle and implement dealers, in San Francisco. T. M. Sherman, the cashier of the company, is from Lincoln county.—Advocate.

Mr. Gilbert is trying to obtain decisions in the court of claims on the claims of John Moses' heirs, Jessamine county, $1,000; John L. Walker, Boyle county, $2,700; Jas. F. Edwards, Boyle county, $1,600; T. M. Arnold's heirs, Garrard county, $500.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Robert Woodson, of Pulaski, Tenn., died of grief caused by the loss of his wife.

John Brice, son of the dead millionaire senator of Ohio, married a chorus girl in the Rounders Co., at Cambridge, Mass.

Joseph Love, yardmaster of the Q. & C. at Somerset, and Miss Ellen Payne, of the same city, were married at Lexington.

Burch Wade, a Cleveland, O. youth, shot himself through the head when the girl he loved told him she cared nothing for him.

In Muncie a man aged 84 years married a miss aged 34 years. They have been lovers for 40 years, but love's young dream never became a reality until this week.

This item might form the basis of a novel entitled "How He Loved Her, or All the Dam Fools are Not Dead: Louis Hoen, handsome and wealthy, went to Logansport, Ind., from Indianapolis three months ago and asked the St. Joseph's hospital physician to break his legs and make them straight. He had a pronounced curvature in both limbs below the knees and was determined to undergo the operation because his sweetheart made sport of the "bumps." He was chloroformed and placed on the operating table. The flesh and skin were cut at the points where the breaks were desired and the bones were notched clear around with a chisel, after which they were easily snapped in two. The young man suffered intensely for weeks before the bones began to knit. He will be discharged soon, a full inch taller than when he entered the hospital, the straightening of the bones having made that gain in his stature. As soon as he is out he will marry the girl who objected to his bow legs.

PREVENTIVE OF BLACKLEG.

BURLINGTON, Wis., May 6.—Seeing an article in your paper on blackleg and other diseases among cattle, written by Dr. Steele Bailey, I request the privilege of stating to you and the cattle raisers of your vicinity what I know about disease in cattle. Blackleg, Anthrax, Rinderpest, Lung Plague, Texas fever, and Tuberculosis are all due to germs that multiply on the surface of the body and enter the flesh through the punctures made by biting insects. This I can prove; and will also be willing to wager $100 with the leading veterinarian of your State or Dr. Bailey, that I am right.

If cattle raisers wish to prevent those diseases and also the disease causing premature births, they must learn to dip their cattle three or four times a year to keep those germs off the flesh, in a solution of some kind, strong enough to kill the germs. Those germs can not rise in the air, so those diseases are not caused by the eating, drinking and inhaling of the germs. Three years ago I proved to the men of our experiment station at Madison, that Tuberculosis was not caused by the eating, drinking or inhaling of the germs in human kind or animals. They thanked me and bought a herd of tubercular cattle on once to experiment on, and thus far I have not heard what headway they have made. I am willing to answer any question in regard to what I have said. Vaccination for these diseases is useless.

Respectfully,

MISS M. CUNNINGHAM.

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

Gen. Pantaleon Garcia, an insurgent leader, has been captured in North Luzon.

The street car system of St. Louis is tied up by a strike and much rioting attends any attempt to run the cars.

A boy in Middletown, Connecticut, is suffering from mumps, chicken pox and scarlet fever all at the same time. C. J. Piper was killed in Warren county by lightning, making the fourth to die that way in Kentucky in two days.

Twenty-one people have died in Simpson county within the past few weeks whose ages aggregate 1,705 years.

At Frankfort Mrs. Richard Ferguson, Sr., aged 76, committed suicide by leaping from a second story window at her residence.

At Franklin, Sam Chambers was killed by lightning while leaning against a building to shelter himself from the rain.

At Coalton, O., Walter Harris shot and dangerously wounded his 10-year-old son because the latter played an innocent joke on him.

Tom Sharkey knocked out Joe Chynski at Tattersalls in Chicago. At the sound of the bell for the third round Chynski was unable to respond.

An American naval officer has invented a new shell, which, tested Tuesday in a six-inch gun, bored a clean hole through 14 inches of Harveyized armor.

David Clay, aged 42, killed his mother at Reading, Pa., because he says Jesus told him to do so. A jury will doubtless tell a sheriff to put his neck in a halter.

Last Saturday was a great day for shad in Philadelphia. The catch was estimated at 200,000, and the prices ranged as low as 10 and 15 cents for fine specimens.

Wm. Heldrich, a printer, and Louis Moorman, went fishing in Bank Lake, near Covington, and took refuge from a thunder storm under a tree. Lightning struck it and killed both.

James Levy & Bro., Cincinnati, sold to Kessler & Co., of Chicago, 12,000 barrels of Cedar Brook whiskey, 93 to 98 make, for $1,000,000 cash. It is the largest single transaction in whiskies ever made.

It is estimated that, during the past 14 months, upward of 10,000 wolves have been killed in Wyoming, in addition to mountain lions, wild cats, lynx, bear and coyotes. A bounty is paid by the State for the heads of each.

An electric car line has been run from Lexington to Nicholasville and the cost estimated at $100,000 to build it and another $100,000 to equip it. Mayor Duncan is trying to interest Eastern capitalists in the matter.

Edward Clifford, who killed the railroad superintendent who discharged him, was hanged at Jersey City, N. J. His friends spent over $100,000 in persistent efforts to save him, and he had been sentenced to death five times.

Alguinaldo, far from being dead, is said to have again taken the field with Gen. Timon in North Luzon. He has a considerable force and is in the mountains. Brig. Gen. Young has asked for reinforcements in order to go after him.

The sealing fleet to the Behring sea this year consisted of 26 vessels and they returned with 31,404 seal skins. The average catch per vessel was 1,325 skins, which has been surpassed only twice in the history of the Canadian pelagic sealing business. In 1890 and 1894.

A shortage exceeding $80,000 has been discovered in the Havana post-office. Charles F. Neeley, former treasurer of the postoffice department in Cuba, is under arrest. Auditors Reeves and Reynolds have been suspended and other arrests are probable. It is said the frauds have continued since July last.

The State council of Red Men in session at Lexington elected Willie Walker, Lexington, Great Sachem; Gus G. Ellerkamp, Louisville, Great Sagamore; W. C. Pelham, Augusta, Junior Sagamore; W. C. Diederich, Ashland, Great Prophet; C. E. Lydane, Winchester, Great Chief of Records; John D. Walker, Lexington, Great Keeper of the Wampum.

MCCREARY.—A good democrat writing from Orlando, Rockcastle county, says, and we heartily endorse his suggestion: It seems to me that all the power of the people and the press should be brought to bear upon Gov. McCreary to force him into service as the next candidate for governor. We should hazard nothing in the next State election. A new and untried man will not be a safe venture. We need an experienced, safe man, one in whom the people have entire confidence, and one who was not too closely identified with the events of the last election. McCreary wishes to become Senator, and now is his chance. Once governor, no power can keep him out of the other position.

MT. VERNON.

There are several cases of mumps in town.

Mrs. Higgins, aged about 80, died at poorhouse Tuesday.

The White Lino Co. are preparing to manufacture their own barrels.

Marshal Short has 10 men in our jail that he will take to Covington soon.

Miss Wood, of Berea, entertained our telephone subscribers Monday evening with some fine songs over the wire.

There is a wooden pump on the Judge Fleh farm near this place made by Howard, that has been in use for 35 years.

The Shively company, of Cincinnati, have purchased a tract of stone quarry land just North of Langford and are opening it up and placing machinery for developing an immense quarry. Other enterprises are to follow.

It now begins to look as though Mt. Vernon will have two banks. Messrs. Richards and Green, the originators of the question of a bank in this place, have secured sufficient subscriptions to begin business and we understand from local stockholders the matter will be pushed. London and Corbin parties have been here working up a rival institution and it is claimed they have met with encouragement.

Fritz Krueger is in Hyden. James Maret went over to Lancaster Wednesday and staid a couple of days. Agent Landram is feeling proud over the recent improvements made in his office at depot. Willie Griffin is getting up the furniture and fixtures for the Royal Arch Chapter. Miss Caille Adams is visiting relatives at Harboursville. Hugh Miller's children are grieving over the loss of their little trick dog. Grant Baker was laid up some days with toothache.

CRAB ORCHARD.

Elder J. G. Livingston will fill the pulpit of the Christian church Sunday.

Manager Gus Hofmann is having the grounds of the springs beautifully cleaned and will soon be in readiness for invalids.

Wednesday was a very peculiar day, a heavy cloud hung low upon the earth all day, until at sunset the sky cleared, a cool wave came on, and by Thursday morning a white frost chilled the hopes of the early gardeners, yet we trust no serious damage will result to the gardens, but the fruit will doubtless be injured.

The children of Crab Orchard Springs Hotel and vicinity entertained themselves and others by a pleasant gathering Tuesday night, a cake walk being the especial feature of the evening. Mr. Cochran, of Lexington, and Dr. Diek furnished the music for the occasion. Miss Bertha Hofmann and little Miss Hesse Haldeman, of Louisville, won the beautiful white cake.

Mr. M. Livingston, of Chicago, made a short stay with Dr. Doores and family. W. A. Heazley and wife visited Dr. W. S. Beazley at Lancaster. Mrs. Bessie McGee, of Cincinnati, is with her mother, Mrs. McGee. Morris Harris and brother, George, are with their mother, who sustained painful injuries from a fall last week. She is resting easily at this writing. Though somewhat improved, Dr. J. S. Stapp continues quite ill with grip. Mrs. Dr. Doores and Miss Ha Holdam spent Wednesday in your town. Carpenter Stuart, of Halsey, is with his father, Mr. Wm. Stuart.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

The 65th annual convention of the Southern Baptist church is in session at Hot Springs.

The corner stone of the Christian church at Cincinnati will be laid with imposing ceremonies on the 23d.

Rev. J. B. Crouch has gone to Fort Scott, Kas., to see his brother, and Dr. Wm. Shelton will fill his pulpit at the Baptist church here Sunday.

One hundred and ninety-three have been added to the church at Crawfordsville, Ind., since Bro. Wallace Tharp began his work there 18 months ago.—Christian Guide.

Pastor J. E. Watson writes from Corbin: "Our meeting has just closed. We had 37 conversions and 37 additions, 28 by baptism and nine by letter."—Baptist Recorder.

Rev. J. W. Lackey is having the minutes of the South Kentucky Colored Baptist Association printed at this office, and they are the best written and arranged that we have handled.

Dr. Eaton started his congregation at Louisville Sunday by stating that it had been discovered that their old Walnut Street church, recently sold, was a veritable death trap, the joists having rotted and being ready to tumble.

Elder C. C. Cline seems to be in better business than abusing the Roman Catholics now. He writes to the Christian Guide that his meeting at Fayetteville, Ind., had 42 accessions, 23 of whom were males; 22 were heads of families, and only three were children. There were baptized over 50, two of whom were over 60.

LANCASTER.

Rev. J. C. Massee will preach at Mansfield, Ohio next Sunday.

Marshall Scott and Miss Nannie Lane were married at Buena Vista Wednesday.

Our kid base ball team is invincible. It beat Stanford and Paint Lick last week and this week literally devoured Danville.

J. C. Siler & Co., shipped 12 horses to Memphis. They bought four horses in Richmond at $50 to $65 and three in Harrodsburg at $35 to $115.

Mrs. May R. Patterson informs me that the W. C. T. U. convention for the 8th Kentucky district, which was to have been held at Livingston on May 16, was postponed for a short time. Announcement of dates will be made later.

It is understood that Capt. Herndon will welcome the Confederate veterans at the Gordon lecture on the 24th and Judge M. C. Sauley will respond. The event will be a happy meeting of the blue and the gray. The court house will be crowded. Go to McRoberts and reserve a seat.

J. E. Stormes deeded the beautiful Stormes homestead on Richmond Avenue, to R. A. Stone, for $2,700. Mr. Stone sold a lot near the railroad to J. S. Minor & Son, for $1,500 and they have begun to build a large flouring and planing mill, which will cost about $20,000. Come over and get a sack of flour. The Lancaster flouring mill is being supplied with new machinery throughout.

Seats are selling rapidly for "A Kentucky Hero," to be given at the opera house Tuesday night, May 15. Harry Leonard, the veteran comedian, with good Lancaster talent, will render the popular comedy in a highly acceptable manner. It promises to be one of the strongest attractions of the season. The Hayseed parade and band promise to eclipse St. Plunkard. Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Although Jailer David Ross is one of the best officers in the State, three prisoners sawed two bars, 12 inches long, making a space 12 inches square, through which they escaped Wednesday night. They were singing and dancing during the day and it is believed that the work was going on then. They were Walter Simpson, colored, serving time for a misdemeanor, Alfred Preston, charged with house breaking, and Robt. Carrier, charged with horse stealing, who, it is said, broke jail at Nicholasville once. They will likely be arrested in a short time.

Mr. E. D. Bishop took his tomakawk and went to Lexington to represent our wigwam in the grand meeting of Red Men. Mrs. G. M. Patterson went to Livingston Tuesday. Messrs. P. M. Melto' erts and J. S. Owsley, Jr., were here Wednesday. G. M. Patterson has gone to Louisville to bury up the new dynamo for the 24th and 25th. Mrs. Durham, of Middleburg, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. I. S. Wesley. Mrs. Wesley, Kinnaird, Aetion and probably more of our physicians, attended the State Medical Society at Georgetown.

Gen. D. R. Collier called the republican county convention to order Tuesday. L. L. Walker was elected chairman. He, J. Hunt McMurtry and others made speeches condemning the Goebel law and democratic measures generally and approving republicaniam throughout. Resolutions were adopted consistent with their views on public questions and endorsing Bradley, Collier Taylor and all other leading republicans. The delegates were instructed to vote for Collier for district delegate and Bradley, Denny and Taylor for the State-at-large. The majority report of the committee on resolutions did not instruct for Taylor, but Capt. Herndon, a member of the committee on resolutions, brought in a minority report adding the name of Taylor. He made a speech urging the addition of his name, to which the convention consented. After the meeting Mr. J. E. Robinson asked if a resolution was passed condemning the assassination of Gov. Goebel, and added that it should be done at all public meetings.

REPUBLICAN DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Judge W. E. Varnon, who attended the republican convention at Nicholasville, as a delegate, tells us that Capt. Speed, of Spencer, was made chairman and T. M. Cardwell, of Mercer, secretary. The resolutions endorse McKinley and instruct for him, and endorse and sympathize with Taylor and his "martyr band." Gen. D. R. Collier, of Garrard, and T. J. Ballard, of Anderson, were named for district delegates to the Philadelphia convention and J. T. McClintock, of Madison, for district elector, with a colored brother, Woods, of Boyle, for assistant. W. J. Williams was retained as district committeeman. John W. Yerkes made "the best speech he ever made in his life" and declared that no matter how the supreme court decides the Goebel Election law has got to be repealed.

THE Elizabethtown News and other behind the times papers are printing the story, told shortly after Gov. Goebel's death, that he had decided to give up the contest and go West for his health, but a hell boy forgot his call and he missed his train, afterwards being dissuaded from his intention. Referring to the story the Owensboro Messenger says that the hell boy had no responsibility in the matter. Before retiring Mr. Goebel consented to remain in Frankfort until 3 o'clock the following day. The next day Senator Blackburn, ex-Chief Justice Lewis and other leading democrats persuaded him to leave the determination of making the contest to the representative men of his party, and Senator Blackburn called a meeting of the State central, executive and campaign committees and 10 days later more than 100 democrats from all sections of the State met at Frankfort and with one voice demanded that the contest be made. Mr. Goebel's reluctance to going into the contest was not due to any doubt in his mind of the justice of his cause, but was because he firmly believed the L. & N. would buy up enough men in the General Assembly to defeat him. He believed that would happen which John Whalen undertook to do, in bribing, as he thought, Senator Harrel and others. And only the exposure made by Harrel put a stop to the trafficking in legislators.

THE best thing we have read in many a day is C. E. Woods' write-up of the Madison republican county convention, and published in Wednesday's Climax. Mark Twain never wrote anything better and but for its length, it is over two columns, we would reproduce it. The resolution condemning assassination and the assassin because of his bad marksmanship in not killing his victim instantly and the resolution endorsing Taylor, Youtsey, etc., are capital takes-off, while the one denouncing Attorney Campbell must be given in full to be appreciated. It reads: "We repudiate the statement that the prosecution's chief counsel, Col. T. C. Campbell, of Cincinnati and New York, is a republican. By his ceaseless search for the slayer of Goebel, and the success that has crowned his efforts, he has forfeited all claims upon our fellowship and respect. Instead of confining himself to the apprehension of the assassin, he has prostituted his brilliant talents to the exposure of the whole dark plot, and thereby has well nigh 'damned' our party beyond the hope of salvation in this life, or of resurrection in the life to come. Henceforth, the name, Tom Campbell, shall bear to republicans the same significance as the names of Benedict Arnold and John Young Brown."

EVERY Confederate veteran who can do so ought to attend the Confederate reunion at Louisville May 30-June 3. In the very nature of things the brave old boys who wore the gray 35 or 40 years ago, will soon be a memory as none who fought for the cause they held so dear are less than 55 years old now. They can have but a few more reunions and it behooves them to take advantage of the present auspicious occasion to meet once and live over the stirring scenes of a third of a century ago. Louisville is making a grand effort to eclipse all former welcomes extended to veterans and she will doubtless succeed. Every Confederate who attends will be taken care of without money and without pay. The railroads will give the low rate of one cent a mile, thereby enabling the poorest to attend. Let the grand old fellows shake with each other once more at least, before they go to rest with Jackson "over the river under the shade of the trees."

It is very nice of Caleb Powers to say that he will stand his trial for the part he took in the assassination of Gov. Goebel, no matter if the supreme court decides in favor of Taylor, whose pardon he holds. As "Cale" has tried to use it on several occasions without avail, he is doubtless getting tired of it, but his word won't go. A sheriff's deputies will see that he is on hand when Judge Cantrell calls his case and he will be tried no less unless he can show better cause for not being tried than the pardon of a measly usurper.

A GOOD deal of comment has been caused by the committee in the 7th district ruling that only those who supported the democratic nominees in the last election are entitled to participate in the primary. There oughtn't to be any objection to that. Surely those who have shown that they do not support nominees unless they suit them, are not the proper persons to select nominees for democrats. Let the bolters show forth meet for repentance before they take so high a seat in the synagogue.

TAYLOR must feel himself in dire need of protection. A dispatch says he had a long conference with Assistant Secretary of War Melklejohn, who doubtless promised to send the army and navy to Kentucky to protect him from trial and its almost certain disastrous result to him. The great and good man, who claims to be a martyr in the cause of civil liberty, seems to be in serious trouble. His every movement excites suspicion and gives additional strength to the chain of circumstances, not to mention the corroborating evidence, that connects him with the most damnable deed ever hatched by political conspirators.

EVERY republican convention in Kentucky so far held has endorsed Taylor and would have doubtless done so, if he had been convicted of the assassination of Gov. Goebel. Instead of strongly suspected of conspiracy in the foulest crime of the century. A party which can deliberately endorse his outrageous acts against law and decency, to say nothing of the greater crime, deserves and will get damnation, whether Taylor is hanged or not.

A DISPATCH says that Finley and Taylor disguised with green goggles, stole along the streets of Indianapolis, and when a reporter accosted the usurper, Finley responded "His name is not Taylor. That's my friend Jones." Do honest men or innocent men act that way? Verily, no scripture is truer than the passage: "The guilty flee when no man pursueth."

JIM HOWARD says he is innocent and gives himself up. Charles Finley says he is innocent, but continues to hover under the wing of an assassin sympathizer, Gov. Mount, in Indiana. The one proves his faith by his works. The other works the sympathy racket on old suckers like Mount and shows his fear of an investigation. Which would you pick for an innocent or an honest man?

J. R. COLLIER has sold the Franklin Favorite to E. J. and C. L. Hobby and retired from journalism, which loses a very big bodied and big hearted democrat. If the new owners will keep it in the middle of the road as well as Collier has, they can retire after 24 years as he, with the plaudits of all who love men with views and the courage to champion them.

It is hard to decide which is the best republican paper in Louisville, the Dispatch, Post or Commercial, but the republican council solved the question by electing the Dispatch public printer over the Commercial 23 to 8. This shows appreciation and will help the organ of assassination to continue its existence a few days longer.

THE Louisville Times, with its usual enterprise, printed the Kentucky republican platform yesterday, several days in advance of the convention. It is simply a gallow with a ready tied knot awaiting the conspirators.

MASS CONVENTION.

There will be a mass convention of the democrats of Lincoln county at the court house in Stanford, Ky., Saturday June 16th, at 2 P. M., standard time, for the purpose of selecting delegates to a convention to be held at Harrodsburg June 20th to nominate a candidate for Congress. JNO. W. HOLMES, Chm'n.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, May 11, 8:30 A. M.—After unanimously nominating Bryan, the populists at Sioux City held an exciting session, finally nominating Charles A. Towne, silver republican, for vice president. Towne is willing to withdraw if he is not satisfactory to democrats at Kansas City.

The Tennessee democrats renominated McMinn for governor. The first resolutions endorsed expansion, but the committee was sent back with new members and an anti-expansion plank was formulated and adopted.

Green Golden and Berry Howard are ready to surrender. Both are said to have been in correspondence with the Goebel brothers. O. D.

About Conspirators and Assassins.

Berry Howard, charged with complicity in the Goebel assassination, says he will surrender in the next few days.

Mrs. Banta having made oath that she never said she saw Jack Chlon shoot Goebel, the colonel has withdrawn his suit for $25,000 against her. The Goebel reward commission held a meeting at Frankfort and approved some minor accounts. The total expenses of the commission to date do not exceed $2,500.

Jim Howard, of Clay county, charged with complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel, surrendered to Sheriff White, of Clay, who took him to Frankfort. He says he is innocent.

The assassination suspects will be guarded in the jail at Georgetown by five deputy sheriffs. They were taken thither without handcuffs and people could not tell who were the officers and who were the assassins.

The Georgetown jailer is said to have greeted the assassination suspects with "I'm no d—n Goebellite," which leads the Frankfort Democrat to remark that his most intimate friend would not gainsay the charge that he is a d—d fool.

On his way to the transfer to the jail at Georgetown, Caleb Powers made the statement that even should the supreme court decide that Taylor is governor he will not attempt to use the pardon issued him by Taylor when he was about to flee, but will stand his trial.

In the course of a sensible article on the Kentucky situation, the Knoxville Sentinel says: No sane man can doubt that Caleb Powers and his associates are assassins and should be dealt with by the strong hand of the law, in a manner in keeping with their crime, is doubted by no one. The conviction of these men would mean practically the conviction of Gov. Taylor, and this would be a consummation most devoutly to be wished. All believe that he is at the head of this conspiracy, and all agree that he should be the principal sufferer for the crime. The blood of Gov. Goebel is certainly on somebody's hands, and it looks very much to the outside world from the evidence which has been produced that those hands are the hands that are worn by Gov. Taylor.

The affair throughout has been horrible, and the responsibility therefor rests with the republican party of Kentucky.

Sheriff White, of Clay, and Col. T. C. Campbell held a conference, during which the sheriff ably presented the case of Jim Howard. At its conclusion Col. Campbell said: "I have no doubt, Mr. White, that you believe 'Jim' Howard innocent. On the contrary, I can not but believe that he is the man who fired the fatal shot. I like Howard's appearance. His voice is soft and pleasing as a woman's, but I think his restless eye betrays him. However, it is the evidence at hand which convinces me in spite of your way of putting his innocence. After Mr. Howard's surrender I do not attach the importance to that which you do. If he had not come in with your sheriff today he would have been taken by our own men to a moral certainty next week."

Mr. White said to a reporter that he would become Howard's bondsman in the sum of $30,000 if bail is granted, and, further, that if it be necessary Howard could give $100,000 bail.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

The first district republican convention indorsed ex-Gov. Bradley for the vice presidential nomination.

The republicans of Illinois in convention at Peoria nominated a full State ticket headed by Richard Yates for governor.

The speaker arbitrarily refused to recognize Mr. Sulzer, of New York, to offer a resolution of sympathy in the House for the Boers.

The vote of the electoral college will be the same this year as it was in 1896, when McKinley received 271 electoral votes and Bryan 176.

The sub-committee of the National democratic committee at its meeting found that satisfactory progress was being made on the convention hall in Kansas City.

The race problem conference at Montgomery was attended by quite a number of distinguished speakers. Hon. Hilary A. Herbert, who was in Cleveland's cabinet, was elected president.

As a result of the Rev. Dr. Houghton's charges in a sermon in Atlanta Sunday against James G. Woodward, mayor of Atlanta, the city council adopted a resolution calling on the mayor to resign.

Representative Turner has introduced a bill in the House to regulate the practice in jury trials in Federal court so as to conform with State courts. The bill requires Federal judges to file their charges to juries in writing.

The fruits of imperialism, be they bitter or sweet, must be left to the subjects of monarchy. This is the one tree of which the citizens of a republic may not partake. It is the voice of the serpent, not the voice of God, that bids us eat.—W. J. Bryan.

Hi there John B. Thompson! The Hopkinsville Kentuckian says: Some of the statesmen who blew the horns in the Louisville convention last year to prevent Goebel's nomination, are willing to harmonize this year if allowed to dictate the terms.

Wharton Baker, of Philadelphia, and Ignatius Donnelly were nominated for president and vice president by the Middle of the Road Populists at Cincinnati, who adopted a plan submitted by Jo Parker, of Kentucky, demanding public ownership of public utilities. The Fusion element of the party in convention at Sioux Falls, S. D., nominated Bryan by acclamation.

In convention assembled the Shelby county republicans recommended Ludlow F. Petty, of Shelby county, to the voters of the 8th Congressional district as a suitable and competent person to represent them in Congress and called upon him to announce himself as a candidate. What's the matter with the gray gelding?

Speaking of the objection of Judge Breckinridge to be called "general," the Owensboro Messenger hits Hardin hard, when it says: The "generals" who have for the past 20 years occupied the attorney general's office at Frankfort may have been very fine military gentlemen, but until Pratt and Breckinridge came in it had been a long, long time since there was a real lawyer in charge of the shop.

$100 REWARD.—The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for full particulars. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. "Hall's" Family Pills are the best.

Season tickets to the Louisville May Music Festival, May 14, 15 and 16, are only $7 for the best seats in the house. Single tickets $2.50 to 50 cents to hear Semblich and Nordica, the great stars of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Miss Leonora Jackson, the world's famous violinist. The railroads will give very low rates.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or lumbago rheumatism will agree that the infliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of his statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Oralg & Hoeker Druggists.

The 1900 peach crop will be larger than the average if nothing now comes along to spoil the present splendid prospect. From Michigan, Delaware, New Jersey, Georgia and Texas reports indicate that the crop will be a record-breaker.

Ben Hildgely, former Louisville newspaperman, who was appointed consul at Geneva by President Cleveland, has been transferred to Malaga, Spain.

Olga Nethercole, the actress, has filed suit against the Rev. T. C. Easton, of Washington, for $30,000 damages. She alleges that he characterized her in a recent sermon as "a lewd woman."

Before bacteriology became fashionable in medical circles we used to call influenza "a hard cold." Our discomfort was neither greater nor less than it is now when we know that the trouble is all due to an infinitesimal bug with a Latin name three feet long ending in "cocci" or "spirilla." We sneezed and we shivered and we blew our noses with no more vigor then than now. What is more to the purpose, we got well just as quickly then as now. The scientists who pass their waking hours peering into high-power microscopes have discovered the grip bacillus, but they haven't discovered the way to kill him. It is very little consolation to the wretched, sneezing patient to be assured that his woes may all be attributed to a bacterium which takes up his headquarters in the mucous membrane of the throat and nose and proceeds to make trouble with a vigor entirely out of proportion with his size. Not the cause, but the cure, is what interests the sufferer, and the cure is no more rapid to-day than it was a century ago, when bug hunting was in its early infancy and "oil immersion" lenses were unknown.

A correspondent under the nom de plume of "Prescher" writes as follows to the Colleen (Ky.) Star: "A good joke is going the rounds that during the progress of a sanctified meeting at Island, Ky., an over-zealous brother concluded that he was the means of transportation from this earth to the better land. So, lowering himself upon his hands and knees, he cried out: 'Anyone who wants to go to Heaven get on and let's go.' Two or three men rode the brother to the front, where he threw them off like a bucking broncho, when upon his return he called for another passenger, and a young man equipped with two heavy spurs mounted the conveyance provided and began to drive the rowels into each side, which caused the improvised mule to quicken his pace, and the passenger was soon landed. Thus ended the scene, and no other happy convert has had the privilege of riding into Heaven at this meeting upon the representative of God's animal, for he did not like the spurs."

The Maine man declares that the only room fit for human beings to eat in is produced in the "state of stumps." Kentucky claims a monopoly of all the good whiskey and California boasts of the finest grapes on earth. Florida is admitted to be the only part of this hemisphere where the orange attains perfection; New Jersey has monopolized of unrivaled size and unapproachable fertility; North Carolina has the finest cabbage, and Virginia the most delicious apples. There are few men bold enough to stand in the presence of a Georgian and express a doubt that this state produces the most luscious peaches that ever blushed under the kisses of the sun. It is dangerous to touch any state on its tender spot of pride.

While a train was backing up to the Union station in Indianapolis, the engineer heard the whimpering of a child, accompanied by the barking and whining of a puppy dog, and after hunting around he found a three-year-old boy, clad only in a nightgown and stockings, and a little dog, shivering on the railroad track. It was discovered that the child lived near by, and after being put to bed he crawled out and started on a ramble with the little black dog, his inseparable companion. After this adventure the family will doubtless prize the dog very highly.

A Texas paper keeps the following notice, which is a better idea than any evolved by Brother Sheldon, on his editorial page: "Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher." If the privilege is extended to comment on esteemed contemporaries, no more could be asked.

A neat feature in telephone work was accomplished a short time ago at Detroit, when the switchboard, serving 6,000 subscribers, was cut in two and moved 15 feet without hindering the service an instant. For ten weeks 42 electricians and scores of other men were preparing for the move, which was made in ten hours.

A Kentucky negro has invented a machine for breaking hemp which, it is said, will more than do the work of ten hands. It is said to be a practical, fully perfected piece of mechanism, and will no doubt make the negro in the near future a rich man.

A plaster parli design for an "Uncle Sam" hat—probably the largest in the world—containing within its crown practical models for upward of 200 distinct types of hats worn by 23 nationalities, will be sent from Philadelphia to the Paris exposition.

The New Orleans man who claims to have invented a gun to shoot 20 miles, gets little comfort from a scientific journal. It analyzes his scheme and says his gun would have to be 1,500 feet long and operated by a plant that would cost $21,649,300.

STILL MISSING.—Ed Wilkinson returned from New Decatur, Ala., yesterday afternoon, where he went with the hope of getting some trace of his brother, Robert Wilkinson, who has been mysteriously missing for two weeks. He went to several surrounding towns and telegraphed to many others, but got no information whatever concerning him.

PARDON.—Gov. Beckham has pardoned Frank Ellis, who was sent up for 21 years for killing Henry Murphy, at Junction City. He was tried here under a change of venue and was badly shot by John Murphy, a brother of the murdered man, while being taken from the court room to the jail, disabling him for a long time. He was formerly marshal of Junction City. He had served about three years.

FOUND HIS MAHE.—J. C. McWhorter found his mare which strayed off and for which he advertised. Johnson Walker, a colored man living near Parksville, had her. He wrote to her owner and yesterday he brought her home. The animal formerly belonged to Walker, who sold her at Lancaster last fall. He must have treated her well as she found her way back after eight months' absence.

H. SPILLMAN RIGGS' talents are varied. He is a splendid speaker, tells a story charmingly, sings well and does a professional whistling turn. In fact he is an all-round entertainer such as is seldom seen in Birmingham. He is an artist of the most refined type and the audience applauded him almost continuously.—Age-Herald. At Walton's Opera House, May 16.

THE frost of Wednesday night was a respecter of persons. It killed tomatoes, beans and other vegetables for Mr. William Burton, Frank McKinney and the rest of the neighbors around him, but did no damage for John Christman, the trucker. He had out nearly 1,000 tomato plants, lots of beans and tender vegetables of many kinds, but all escaped injury, strange to say.

THE boiler of a traction engine belonging to J. W. Lockridge, of Hustonville, exploded while nearing Kidd's Store and William Ryan was struck on the head by a piece of iron and badly hurt. The skull was broken and the wound may prove fatal. David McWhorter had an almost miraculous escape. The cause of the explosion is not known but it was not due to a short supply of water. The damage to the engine is not great.

CALDWELL.—Miss Estill Caldwell, whose illness has been mentioned in these columns, died a few days since of uremic poison and was buried in the home burying ground after services by Rev. Ira Partin. She was the youngest daughter of Mr. E. B. Caldwell, who has been called upon to give up a wife and two daughters in the last year or so and whose cup of sorrow is well nigh overflowed. Miss Estill was a beautiful christian girl and the idol of her father and brothers. She was about 18 years old and a strict member of the Waynesburg Baptist church.

KILLING AT LIBERTY.—A tramp painter named Taff was shot and killed in J. W. Whipp's pasture in the suburbs of Liberty, a few nights ago, by John Hamlin, a brick layer. Hamlin claims he was shooting at a dog, but history is given little credence. The two had gone out to try their hands as marksmen. The shots were heard in town; one shot being followed in a few seconds by three in rapid succession. Taff was struck in the temple and died instantly. Hamlin is in jail. Taff had been around Liberty only a short time and he gave little information about himself to any one.

McCLARY.—After a week's illness from uremic poison, Mrs. Maggie Newland McClary breathed her last at 2:30 yesterday morning. She was born in July, 1862, six months before the death of her mother, who was followed to the tomb by her father a few years later. So she had of course no recollection of the one and but little of the other. Till the marriage of her brother, Thomas D. Newland, she lived with her uncle, Dud Newland, when she went to live with her brother, who practically raised her and who regarded her with the affection of a parent. She was the youngest of eight children, the rest regarding her as "the baby," and is the first to die. Uniting herself with the Baptist church in early girlhood, she lived and died a christian in the highest sense of its meaning. Her marriage to Mr. J. C. McClary about 9 years ago was followed by a life of almost unalloyed happiness. They loved each other with their whole hearts and a more affectionate couple never lived together. Her death therefore comes with crushing sadness to him, who is bowed down with grief and who can now see no silver lining to the cloud that envelops him. May the God that she loved and he loves give him comfort and resignation. This morning at 10 o'clock, after a short service at the grave in Buffalo cemetery by Rev. R. B. Mahony, the last tribute of respect will be paid to the tender wife, loving sister and faithful friend.

The Knights of Pythias ordered a beautiful floral design to be placed on Mrs. J. C. McClary's grave and others brought beautiful flowers.
